Passage in a Sentence: As we strive to be salt and light in our world, we are to treat others as God has treated us in Christ.

- I. As believers, we are to exercise care for one another without executing condemnation.

- II. As believers, we are to be better at putting away sin in our lives than pointing out sin in others.

- III. As believers, we are to preach the gospel to all without discrimination but be discerning in our disciple making.

- IV. As believers, we are to treat others as we want to be treated and as God has treated us in Christ.
