

Praising the God Who Covenants and Covers Dr. Landon Dowden March 23, 2025 | Genesis 8:20-9:29

Passage in a Sentence: We should always praise the God who graciously keeps us, commissions us, covenants with us, and covers our foolishness with His faithfulness nmissions us, covenants with us, and covers our foolishness with His faithfulness.

I.	Praising the God who graciously keeps us – Like Noah, we should glorify, express our gratitude for, and give cheerfully and sacrificially to the One who keeps us.
II.	Praising the God who graciously commissions us – Like Noah, we should propagate, prioritize, and protect life because all people are made in God's image.
III.	Praising the God who graciously covenants with us – Like Noah, we should rest in God's promises of restraint and remembering.
IV.	Praising the God who graciously covers us – Like Noah, we should rejoice in the God who covers our foolishness with His faithfulness.