Passage in a Sentence: When we try to pursue God's promises without God's plans or God's power, we should not be surprised when we wind up with problems.

- I. With his sovereign plans, God wants our submission rather than our scheming.
- II. God's mercy should always be amazing to we sinners who make such messes.
- III. We should continually praise the God who sees us, hears us, and cares enough to help and heal us.
- IV. We can wait on and trust the God whose timing is perfect.
